The EU Construction Product Passport Conference 2026 is the first dedicated conference aimed at readiness, technology and opportunity in preparation for the introduction of the DPP regulations in Construction and Construction Materials

The EU Digital Product Passport (DPP) provides a digital record linked to individual products containing detailed, standardized information about a product.

Mandatory DPPs for Construction materials are expected to begin in 2027 meaning the whole construction supply chain can scan a code to access detailed sustainability, traceability, and lifecycle data, boosting transparency, circularity and resource efficiency in the construction materials value chain.

Welcoming hundreds of senior level decision makers with responsibility for ensuring strategic compliance, the conference will provide the perfect setting to explore regulation, technology and opportunity specifically across the construction and materials sector.

Join with your construction industry colleagues to plan and prepare as we enter the preparatory phase for Construction DPP introduction.
